Piles! Piles!! Piles!! No One Need Suffer.
A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams (an Indian remedy), called Dr. Williams's Indian Pile Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of 25 years' standing. No one will suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. WILLIAMS'S INDIAN PILE OINTMENT absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching (particularly at night after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice; gives instant relief, and is prepared ONLY FOR PILES, itching of the private parts and nothing else. Read what Hon. Judge Coffinbury, of Cleveland, says: "I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams's Indian Pile Ointment."
For sale by all druggists, or mailed on receipt of price, $1 per box. HENRY & CO., Cleveland O. John E. Groff, Agt., Newport, R. I., G. C. Goodwin & Co., Wholesale Agents, Boston, Mass. je14-eod-nxj

WASHINGTON.

Another Political Removal.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—General J. S. Smith, collector of the Port of Bangor, Me., was today removed, and ex-Gov. Daniel F. Davis appointed in his place. This change was made at the instance of Senator Hale of Maine, and from all that can be learned it is a change that was made solely for political reasons. General Smith has served out less than half his term. He is an efficient officer, and especial agents who have been sent to investigate his district have reported that it is administered in a way to excite commendation. There are no charges of any sort against General Smith and it is said that fully nine-tenths of the people of Bangor were very anxious that he should be retained. The political gossip is that Senator Hale and Mr. Davis had some sort of an understanding pending the Senatorial campaign that Davis should receive any federal office in Maine that he might select provided that he would not himself be a candidate for the Senatorship.

Congressional Contests.

Notifications have been received by the clerk of the House of Representatives of contests in fifteen cases in the next House. Thirteen of the cases are from the North, one from Maine and one from Iowa.

Robertson's Commission.

President Garfield today signed the commission of William H. Robertson as Collector of Customs for the Port of New York.

FROM ALBANY.

BALLOT No. 30.

No Promise of a Change at Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 29. The thirtieth joint ballot was taken today without any substantial change. For the short term Conkling had 32 votes, Wheeler 41 and Potter 52. For the long term Platt had 28 votes, Depew 50 and Kernan 52. The considerably increased vote for Lapham and Cornell at the expense of Wheeler did not occur as anticipated.

It seems to be generally conceded by the stalwarts that Platt is entirely out of the race.

Vice President Arthur has officially offered to the administration men a ticket composed of Conkling and Depew, not to elect which he declares means to adjourn without an election.

Western Winds.

KEOKUK, Iowa, June 29. During the terrible storm of yesterday morning a fire supposed to have been caused by lightning destroyed a row of the best business houses in the neighboring city of Alexandria. The people were wild with excitement and sent to Keokuk for aid, which was despatched to them in the form of an engine and a hose reel. The loss will amount to $32,000; insured for $19,000. The storm also did damage at Memphis, Luray and other points in that section of Missouri.

CHICAGO, June 29. A terrible wind and thunder storm broke over this city between two and three o'clock this morning, levelling trees and telegraph wires. Communication with New York was not restored until noon.

FOREIGN.

The English Railway Murder.

LONDON, June 29. Lefroy, the supposed murderer of Mr. Gold, has not yet been caught. A more stupid piece of police business has seldom been perpetrated. A bullet hole in the railway carriage close to an attachment for calling assistance shows how desperate was the struggle between the murderer and his victim. Lefroy, or Mapleton as he was known by, was a local reporter at Wallington, in which capacity he wrote biographical sketches of local celebrities. He was always present at first nights at the London theatres, having a predilection for things theatrical and, as it appears, tragic.

Abdul Aziz's Murderers Sentenced.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 29. The court in the cases of the prisoners Midhat Pasha, Mahmoud Pasha, Nouri Pasha, Ali Bey, Nedjib Bey, Fahri Bey, Hadji Mehmed, Mustapha, the wrestler, and Mustapha, the gardener, convicted of the murder of Abdul Aziz, has passed sentence of death. Izzet Pasha and Seyd Pasha, who were implicated in the murder, have each been sentenced to ten years penal servitude. The prisoners have eight days to appeal.

The Sentence of Herr Most.

LONDON, June 29. In the Central Criminal Court today Lord Chief Justice Coleridge sentenced Herr Johann Most, publisher of the Freiheit, convicted of inciting to murder, to sixteen months' imprisonment with hard labor. Lord Coleridge said the prisoner's offence was detestable and cowardly, and but for the jury's recommendation to mercy he would have inflicted a sentence of penal servitude. Herr Most on leaving the prisoners' dock, exclaimed:—"We might as well be in Russia."

Sporting.

LONDON, June 29.—Preparations are making at Wimbledon, England, for the arrival of the Canadian team on Monday next. It is considered better that the team should practice one week at Wimbledon, before the meeting begins, than that they should use the ranges at Altcar, as in former years.

Cornell has drawn Bucks station for the heat with the Thames and London clubs tomorrow. This station is a length and a half to the disadvantage of the American crew, and besides these two clubs are the best that will be present at the regatta on the Thames. The contest for the Steward Cup will take place on Friday.

Great Land Slip in Switzerland.

LONDON, June 29.—A dispatch from Geneva to the Times says a great earth slip is in progress near Sigriswell in the Canton of Bern, Switzerland, above the Lake of Thun. A stretch of land on which are meadows and houses is gradually slipping down toward the lake. Thirteen hundred sheep with their shepherds have been overwhelmed by an avalanche near Brigels in the Canton of Grisons.

Italy and France.

The Times' Rome correspondent says that everybody, from quiet bankers to hot headed politicians, indorse the opinion expressed in an article in the Liberta which declares that France is anxious to retrieve the shame of her defeat in 1870, and convinced that she is not sufficiently strong to measure herself against Germany seeks in every way a pretext for picking a quarrel with Italy. The Liberta advises patience and foresight, and says it must be for Italy to choose an occasion of going to war with France, and not leave the latter to force on a war when she finds it most convenient.

A Marquis Fined.

LONDON, June 29.—At the Wiltshire sessions, today, the Marquis of Townshend was fined £500 and costs and bound over to keep the peace for twelve months for horsewhipping Lord Edward Thynne. Colonel Nepean and Mr. Francis Ellis, who abetted the assault, were fined £100 each. Lord Thynne had abducted the Marquis of Townshend's wife.

A New Hampshire Tornado.

BOSTON, June 29.—The tornado last night in Franklin, N. H., was accompanied with hail. The path of the tornado was not more than two miles in the greatest width. Many buildings were seriously damaged, the Methodist church of West Village among them, by floods of rain and hail, which poured into them through the shattered windows. The Catholic Church, a new but poorly built structure, was moved six inches in its foundation, twisted and seriously damaged. A two-story frame house and a barn and shed belonging to David E. Brown were blown down, and George A. Drake's new house was lifted and twisted several feet from its foundation, leaving it a total wreck. The freight cars at the depot of the Northern Railroad were blown off the track. The extreme suddenness of the tornado gave little chance to avoid its ruin. A flock of fifty-two chickens was found all dead near a shelter at Warren Daniels hennery. Great damage was done through the town by the furious sweep of the waters, though the continuance of the torrent was scarcely fifteen minutes. At eleven o'clock last night the tornado was succeeded by a most furious storm accompanied by heavy and violent thunder and lightning, the rain falling in a deluge for two hours.

The Cruise of the Alliance.

ST JOHN'S, N. F., June 29.—The United States steamer Alliance sailed at half past seven this morning, and began her voyage under favorable auspices, the weather being fine. She will proceed to Iceland direct, thence to Spitzbergen. After coaling at the latter place, she will begin the search for the missing Jeannette.

President Garfield will visit Clyde, Ohio, on the 22d day of July, to be present at the unveiling of the MacPherson statue. The date of the annual reunion of the President's old regiment, the 42d Ohio, at Galion, Ohio, has been changed to July 23d, that the President may be able to attend without making a second trip to the West.

During the storm Thursday morning a fatal accident occurred on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad at Hinsdale, Ill. A heavy freight train had been divided into two sections, and when near Hinsdale the first section became uncoupled and the train stopped. The second section came along, and so vivid and blending was the lightning that the engineer could not see the lights. The engine crashed into the caboose, killing J. G. Smith, of Chariton, Iowa, and A. J. Evans, of Pleasantville, Cal., and injuring another train-hand, and wrecking the caboose and one car.

The Chicago Saengerfest.

CHICAGO, June 29. The great Saengerfest commenced in the Exposition building this morning and will continue during the rest of the week, ending on Sunday with a grand picnic. The most elaborate preparations have been made by the local committee here, and it is claimed that this will be the grandest musical entertainment that has been held in the United States for many years. Upward of $70,000 have been subscribed by citizens of Chicago. The chorus includes 2,000 voices and the orchestra 150 musicians. Among the celebrated singers of the world to be present are Madame Peschka Leutner, soprano, and William Candidus, tenor, who have come from Germany especially for this purpose, while Annie Louise Cary, Myron Whitney, Remmertz and Donaldi will also appear.

SPORTING NOTES.

The University race, which takes place tomorrow at New London between the Harvard and Yale crews, is exciting more interest than Monday's Harvard Columbia race.

At the Coney Island Jockey Club race yesterday, the event of the day, the stirrup cup race, two miles and a furlong, was won by Ferida; Parole second, Elias Lawrence third. Time, 3:48.

The Yale crew are on the river every day and are in good trim. It is reported that in their practice they have beaten Monday's time. This report, and the fact that last year they beat a Harvard crew, have made them the favorites in the coming race. The betting is now 75 to 50 in favor of Yale.

Pigeons of the Boston Homing club were started from Schenectady, N. Y., Wednesday, at 6.29 A. M., by New York time, and the first bird arrived at Boston shortly after 10 o'clock, having covered the distance in 4h, 17m, 15s, flying at the rate of 37½ miles per hour, according to air line measurement. G. H. Waite wins the first prize. Of the thirteen liberated at Schenectady eight arrived before 11.30 Wednesday evening, and one more arrived Thursday morning.

The committee to whom was intrusted the selection of the English and American elevens for the cricket match at Stenton, near Philadelphia, on July 4, 5 and 6, have made the following arrangements:—The English eleven will comprise Patterson and Kessler, of the Staten Island Club, New York; Smith and White, Manhattan Club, New York; Bromhead and Ratliff, Germantown; Braithwaite, Merion, Brooks, Pearson and Hargrave, Girard; Wood, Belmont and Tyers, Chestnut Hill. The Americans, as far as known, will be C. A. Newhall, D. S. Newhall and R. S. Newhall, John B. Large and F. E. Brewster, of the Young America; John B. Thayer, Jr., George C. Thayer, W. C. Lowery and Charles E. Haines, of the Merion; Henry W. Brown, Germantown, and Robert Hargrave, Girard.

A LITERAL TRANSLATION.

The translators of the New Testament do not give a literal translation of all its passages. In the Sunday school lesson of yesterday the unjust judge is made to say in the King James version:—

"Because the widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me."

The new version is much the same, though the judge is made to say:—

"I will excuse her, lest she wear me out by her continual coming."

Good Greek scholars say that the judge, literally translated, says:—"I will avenge her lest she box me in the eye." In explanation of this it may be assumed that the judge is a rough fellow, and taking account of the persistency of this woman, ironically assumes that he is afraid if he refuses her justice that she will give him a black eye. [Boston Traveller.

THAT GIDDY GIRL, "DOLLY" MADISON.

Hon. A. H. Stephens tells the following anecdote of the widow of President Madison to instance how late in life a lady's sensitiveness about her age may continue:—He had heard much said about Mrs. Madison being in destitute circumstances, and took great interest in the bill for her relief introduced in Congress while he was a member of the House. Mrs. John J. Crittenden had told him that on a certain day Mrs. Madison would be 82 years old, so he thought he would try and push the bill through on her birthday as a pleasant surprise to her. Quite enthusiastic with his subject he rose to plead her cause and said: "Gentlemen, it would be a peculiarly graceful thing for us to honor the birthday of a venerable widow of our ex-President by passing today the bill for her relief." He plead so eloquently that the bill was passed. Delighted with his success Mr. Stephens made haste to call upon Mrs. Madison, hoping to be the first to tell her the good news on her birthday; but, despite his haste, some one had forestalled him, and to his surprise Mrs. Madison met him, exclaiming: "Oh, Mr. Stephens! it was very good of you to get my bill through today, but you made a very grave mistake when you said I was eighty-two today. I am not eighty-two; I am only eighty." When Mr. Stephens repeated this to Mrs. Crittenden she said, "But all the same she is eighty-two." Since that time, Mr. Stephens says, he has never dared mention a lady's age where she could hear of it.—[Washington Star.

TIVERTON.

Last week the boats owned by Wm. J. Brightman & Co., Seconet, caught over 7000 barrels of menhaden. The Seconet, with two gangs, caught 3100 barrels, the Fearless, with one gang, 2100 barrels, and the rest were caught by three sailing gangs. The Narragansett Works have also had a good catch the last week. Seven menhaden steamers were at New London Sunday. The Alaska had taken last week 210,000 fish, the Hunter 90,000 and the Nellie E. Rawson 60,000. The Telegram of New London says:—

Saturday, while the menhaden steamer Hunter was at Chappell's wharf, one of the crew went aboard intoxicated. He was soon after assaulted by a shipmate and brutally beaten, and afterwards fell overboard. Four of the men of the Hunter refused him assistance, one remarking: "Let him go." Finally a man from the other side of the steamer rescued him. The Hunter steamed away, but returned in the evening and lay at the wharf all day Sunday. No arrests.

While Mr. Richard Albert was "finishing up" a load of hay, yesterday, on Mr. Benjamin Barker's farm, the horses started suddenly, throwing Mr. Albert off the load. He fell upon his head and shoulders, bruising him badly, but breaking no bones.

KEEP HER OFF.

A correspondent of the New York Sun, who found Mark Twain on the roof of his house watching the comet with a long pole in his hand, reports Mark as saying:—

"They are all wrong about the tail. I've ciphered on that tail until I understand every inch of it. It's absurd to suppose that the tail isn't solid, and pretty tough, too. Do you imagine that this comet could go bulging through space at the rate of two hundred miles a minute without knocking spots out of a tail that was vapor? Tie a fog bank on to the rear end of the New York and Boston 4 o'clock express, start her off at even forty miles an hour and see how long your fog bank will travel in company with your locomotive. Yet they ask us to swallow this infernal nonsense about the comet's tail. My observations of this fellow, and also of Coggia's comet, seven years ago, have convinced me that comet's tails are fastened on tight, and are of a fibrous and durable nature like Hartford beefsteak."

"And what do you propose to do with your pole?"

"Great Cæsar! With a tail forty-two million miles long, three million miles thick, and tough as whip leather, whisking about in the wake of that piratical craft every time she tacks overhead, don't you see the necessity of keeping a cool headed and muscular man on deck here to fend off, in case the cussed thing whisks this way?"

THE OLD BONAPARTE MANSION.

The historic Bonaparte Park at Bordentown, N. J., once the home of the ex-King of Spain, is about to be turned into a mammoth machineshop, negotiations to that end having been formally opened between the Board of Trade of Bordentown and Hon. Hezekiah D. Smith of Smithville, N. J. The Park now belongs to the Beckett estate, and will be sold for $50,000. It is proposed to make a stock company and place the contemplated establishment under the management of Mr. Smith, who will pay in one-half of the capital stock and the town of Bordentown the other half. It is understood that the bargain will in all probability be consummated during this week.

Modern Bordentown feels but little compunction in turning the former home of Bonaparte into a practical use, but some of the older residents deplore the wiping out of an old landmark, made famous by its resident, and such distinguished visitors as Lafayette, Talleyrand, Clay, Webster, and others. Philip Bellemair, one of the household of Joseph Bonaparte, and who enjoyed the distinction of scraping the royal chin and clipping the royal hair, is still a resident of Bordentown, and apparently does not regard the change with a great deal of favor. The old gentleman has long since abandoned the calling of a barber, and is now engaged in the confectionery business. He recalled numberless interesting incidents in the life of his royal master, but scouted with ridicule the idea of the subterranean passages of the park having ever been used by the exile for any other purpose than the accommodation of the mansion.

"I came to Bordentown in 1815," said Mr. Bellemair, "and Joseph Bonaparte came here a year later, and I was taken into his service as barber shortly after, so that you can see that I had an excellent opportunity to be intimate with all that was going on. The widely-spread story about the subterranean passages having been constructed for the purposes of escape in case a French fleet came suddenly up the river is pure nonsense. They were built for convenience. There were only two, in one of which were kept the eatables, and the other led to the lake for the purpose of rolling in casks of wine." [Phil. Press.

A well-known artist and glass spinner, Prengil of Vienna, has established at Gandenpel a manufactory for making glass carpets, cuffs, collars, veils, etc. It is said that he not only spins, but also weaves glass with such facility that he is enabled to change the brittle substance into pliable thread; and with this material makes an excellent article of warm clothing. This is said to be accomplished by changing the entire nature of the glass by introducing into it certain ingredients. Ladies' hats, of softest glass feathers, and white curly glass muffs are even produced. This new material is said to be actually lighter than feathers, and wool made of it is stated to so closely resemble the genuine article that it is scarcely possible to distinguish one from the other.

To which the King nodded smilingly.

He has appointed an Indian, a brother of "Bright Eyes," the Ponca maiden, to a clerkship in the Indian Office. The Secretary hopes within a year or two to place in training in the Indian Office several young men from the Hampton School, with the purpose of filling the subordinate places at the Indian agencies with Indian men. Many of the employes at the agencies now are Indians and the Secretary hopes that in the end most of the agency work will be done by Indians.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS AND THE NEWPORT JOURNAL.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon (Sundays excepted), at the News building, 137 Thames street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, and a complete and comprehensive summary of news,—local and general. The Journal is a large 36 column paper and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from the city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the whole year is paid strictly in advance. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the Daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty-five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

Newport Daily News.

THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1881.

Five out of twelve French marriages are said to be unhappy. We should have put the average a trifle higher if asked to guess—say a dozen.

Engineers of the New York and New England Railroad have begun the survey of a route for the extension of the Rhode Island and Massachusetts Railroad from Valley Falls into Providence.

A cry of "Let the legislature adjourn" swells the gale in New York. The people there are quite reasonable in their preference to get along without any Senators than to have such a legislature.

Colby College has just conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity on Rev. C. E. Barrows, pastor of the First Baptist Church in this city. It is an honor richly merited, and the friends of Dr. Barrows will extend their hearty congratulations.

The comet, having turned tail, is making off at the rate of 1,000,000 miles a day. The papers have spoken of it about a thousand times as a "heavenly vagrant," but at the rate at which it is now traveling it would seem to be useless to try to arrest it under the tramp act.

The Boston Transcript says that "the evidence is cumulative that the President and his Cabinet have seriously considered the subject [of civil service reform] in all its bearings." If this is true they seem to be considering it in the peculiar manner in which the New York legislature is considering the election of a couple of Senators. At any rate they do not appear to be progressing very rapidly toward its realization.

The President has written to Senator Anthony, expressing his regret that, owing to the health of Mrs. Garfield, he has been obliged to relinquish his intention to accept the invitation of Gov. Littlefield to visit Rhode Island this year, but he hopes to make a visit to this state at some future time. Among other reasons for coming to Rhode Island, the President desires to see the ancestral homestead of the Ballous, from which family he is descended on his mother's side.

Much was expected by the sanguine at Albany this week, but at the present moment the week promises to end without an election or the consummation of any arrangement which will make an election possible. If nothing could be accomplished this week it is not to be supposed that anything can be accomplished next week. In the meantime the deadlock is costing the state of New York, in the expense of the legislative sitting, $3,000 a day, and has already cost $90,000.

A newspaper change that many admirers of the Nation will regret is announced. The Nation is hereafter to appear as the weekly edition of the New York Evening Post, retaining its old name, but being made up for the most part of articles which have already appeared in the Evening Post. There is every reason to believe that the Nation's peculiar character will be lost in this change.

The heated term, which seems to have been unavoidably postponed for a month or so on account of the weather, has set in in earnest. At Cincinnati yesterday the mercury ranged from 95 to 97 in the shade. At St. Louis there were several prostrations from the heat, and several manufactories have been compelled to shut down. At Long Branch the heat was terrible yesterday, reaching 95° in the shade—if it can truthfully be said that there is any shade at Long Branch. The temperature at Newport contrasts very favorably indeed with these figures.

Captain John Codman, in a letter from Mazatlan to the New York Evening Post, sounds a note of warning to intending investors in the various Mexican railway schemes. He says that the railroad is not a suitable institution for Mexico, and that the Mexican Government knows this while it is apparently anxious to encourage it. "The American railway kings," continues Captain Codman, "know it as well, while they are parading subsidies and carrying about General Grant as a figure-head for the purpose of selling their bonds and stock at home. In short the Mexican Government has sold itself and its country to these speculators, and they in turn have arranged to make the American people pay the cost. By and by, and that before a long time, the subsidies will cease, and the railroads will find their termini at some obscure places in the mountains unless perchance they may reach some mines in which these capitalists are interested. Then the whole blame will be laid upon the Mexican Government, which by that time in due course of revolutions will be another one, repudiating and not even attempting to 'readjust' the debt. The injured stockholders, who will have nobody to blame but themselves for their stupidity, will appeal to their own government for redress, and perhaps a lobby influence at Washington may provoke a war with Mexico." Captain Codman says the railway between Vera Cruz and the City of Mexico, where there is more business than in any other part of the country, does not pay, and that certainly those that are contemplated to run from almost nowhere to places that are scarcely anywhere, over perpendicular elevations, will not be more profitable.

The charge against Collector Smith, of Bangor, who has been removed to make room for ex-Governor Davis, is thus succinctly stated by one of the managers of the machine at Bangor:—"Joe Smith has never done a d—d thing for the party, except to pay over his assessment, since he has been in office, and Hayes appointed him in the first place without consulting a single man of those who had built up the party in Bangor and the state of Maine." It will be seen that, after such black-hearted conduct as this, simple removal is altogether too good for the misguided Smith. An office-holder who thinks he has discharged his duty to both his party and his country by promptly paying his campaign assessments and diligently performing the duties of his office should be made an example of in some more crushing way.

Herr Most, the German socialist editor in London, has after all been convicted and sentenced to sixteen months' imprisonment at hard labor. Though this is rather a severer sentence than was expected, the judge who condemned Most, Lord Coleridge, regretted that he could not make it more severe. His sentence will have three definite results:—It will stimulate the Russian and German governments in the effort to inaugurate an international European crusade against the revolutionists; it will prompt the British government to demand the prosecution of the dynamite wing of the Fenians in America; and it will greatly increase the democratic agitation in England, an account of which the News has already given. There can be no question that Most was a mischievous fanatic, for whom imprisonment at hard labor is none too good, but his sentence is likely to furnish a bad precedent in a variety of ways and prove embarrassing in the future to the Gladstone government.

ANOTHER UNDESIRABLE CHANGE.

The removal of General Joseph S. Smith from the office of Collector of the Port at Bangor, Me., and the appointment of ex-Governor Davis in his place, solely at the instance of Mr. Eugene Hale, is another political movement which is exactly in the line of the Merritt-Robertson and Bentley-Dudley affairs. In each of these three instances an officer against whom no complaint has been made has been removed in order that his place might be used as a reward for political service of some kind. In the case of Robertson the service was rendered directly to General Garfield, and in the case of Dudley to the party at large in Indiana. In the case of Governor Davis, the service is understood to have been rendered to Mr. Hale and through him to Secretary Blaine. His appointment therefore, goes to support the charge of those who are not friendly to General Garfield that the dominant faction at Chicago is to rule the present administration and take the lion's share of the spoils of patronage. The people had hoped for something better from President Garfield's administration. His past utterances, up to the time of his nomination for the Presidency, had all been on the side of absolute freedom from political considerations in appointments to public office. In 1876 he said:—"The two cardinal evils of the service, toward which all efforts at reform should be directed, are the tenure of office and executive appointments. Let it once be fully understood that continuance in office depends solely upon the faithful and efficient discharge of its duties, and that no man is to be removed merely to make place for another, and the reform will be half accomplished." Mr. Garfield's letter of acceptance of the presidential nomination squinted in the opposite direction, it is true, and seemed to recognize the principle of "senatorial courtesy." No great degree of importance, however, was attached to his declaration on this subject in his letter of acceptance. It was felt that such a document, influenced as such letters always are by political exigencies and harmonizing requirements which cannot be lightly overlooked in presidential campaigns, did not represent the candidate's feelings so faithfully as his former speeches on the subject, which may be supposed to have come from his heart.

It has been Mr. Garfield's misfortune to go directly contrary to all his former declarations on the subject of federal appointments. One of two things was looked for by all. It was to be supposed that he would either adhere to his program of 1876, and make "continuance in office depend solely upon the faithful and efficient discharge of its duties," or else that, rejecting this criterion, he would make his appointments from all factions of the Republican party and so maintain harmony in its ranks. If federal office must still be used as a reward for political service, it is infinitely preferable that it should be made to reward service to the party in general, and not be used to recompense a single faction, even though this may have been the triumphant faction in the national convention, at the expense of all other sections of the party. Up to the present time President Garfield has only succeeded in alienating an important wing of the Republican party without satisfying in the slightest degree the demands of the advocates of reform in the civil service.

AN ALLEGED ASSAULT.

Mr. George McMahon, who hails from Boston, was arrested yesterday afternoon for attempting to commit an outrage upon Mrs. William Smith, who resides on Thames street, near the foot of Washington square. It seems, according to Mrs. Smith, that McMahon called upon her for the purpose of collecting a bill, and that while in the house he attempted to outrage her person. It does not appear that her cries were heard on the streets, notwithstanding her windows were open. McMahon left the house and made no effort to escape. Later in the afternoon he passed her house and called at an adjoining house for the purpose of collecting another bill. While on the street the husband of Mrs. Smith, who keeps a liquor store opposite his residence, requested Officer Albro to arrest him. Mrs. Smith was called and fully identified the prisoner as the person who had committed the alleged assault. He was accordingly held and committed to jail in default of $2,000. The prisoner represents a prominent Boston firm, who speak of him in high terms, and who have the utmost confidence in his integrity. The firm have sent a lawyer from Boston to defend him. He wears a gold watch and chain, presented to him by a firm with which he was connected a few years ago. It is a very mysterious case, to say the least. The facts will not be fully known until the examination takes place before Judge Baker.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

There was a large attendance at the Aldermen's room this morning on the occasion of the special meeting to consider the numerous applications for liquor licenses. His Honor, Mayor Slocum, called the meeting to order when it was found that all the members of the Board were in their seats. Outside the bar were a large number of applicants who appeared with their counsel, Patrick Galvin, and ex-Speaker Spooner of Providence.

The Mayor presented the applications of ten more persons for licenses which were received and ordered published.

The list of previous applicants was then taken up. It was announced that Edward V. Westcott of the Perry House had withdrawn his request.

The list was then read, with the names of the bondsmen. In most cases they were accompanied by the required oath that the premises were more than 400 feet from any public school.

In cases where remonstrances were presented the applications were laid aside for further deliberation.

Before action was taken Mr. Isaac Carr, of Jamestown, arose and made an earnest protest against licenses. He said that last Sunday the ferry boat brought over to his town four men who were made dead drunk in Newport, and he objected to granting licenses that had such an influence on his town.

It was announced that Wm. T. Rutherford withdrew his application as he found he was within 400 feet of a public school.

The case of Patrick Nolan was taken up. This is one of the test cases against which the monster petition had previously been presented. The Mayor read the petition at length including the signatures which embrace so large a proportion of our business men and heavy taxpayers.

Mr. Spooner appeared in behalf of Mr. Nolan and presented a counter petition signed by a considerable number of residents in that vicinity and other parts of the city.

After the reading Mr. Spooner addressed the Board. He said that there were not more than two or three of the remonstrants who reside within 200 feet of Mr. Nolan's premises. There is therefore no legal obstruction to granting the prayer of the petition. The objection is a general one.

At this stage City Solicitor Peckham stated that it was claimed that representatives of the majority of the land within 200 feet had signed the remonstrance, but he had no definite knowledge on that point.

Mr. Spooner continued at considerable length. He reviewed the remonstrance as to its terms and special application to these cases. He claimed that while there were numerous and perhaps unworthy places in the locality, Mr. Nolan keeps a quiet and respectable place, and that the disorderly conduct complained of in that locality does not come from this place. He declared that it was, though of humbler character, as respectable as the Ocean House, the Casino and the Club to which licenses were freely given. There are disreputable rum shops on the street but Mr. Nolan's is not one of them.

On the application of Mr. Nolan the vote was taken by ayes and noes as follows: Yeas, Alderman Smith; Noes, Aldermen Knoll, Langley, Crosby, Cottrell.

The license was therefore refused.

The case of John Malgan was next taken up. A paper signed by several citizens was presented in his favor, but his license was refused by the same vote as above.

Alderman Cottrell then presented a resolution to the effect that no licenses be granted to any persons on Bellevue avenue.

Alderman Langley objected to its passage.

The ayes and nays were called and the resolution was adopted with Alderman Langley alone in the negative.

The case of William Slavin, No. 8 Prospect Hill street, was taken up and in answer to the call of the roll the Board unanimously voted against granting the petition.

The application of Samuel McLeod, on Bath road, was similarly disposed of by the same vote.

The list of applicants against whom no remonstrants have appeared was then taken up and several were granted. When the case of the Germania hotel was taken up, objections were made and the license refused by a unanimous vote. The applicant is a stranger in town.

The application of Thomas Wood on Thames street was rejected by a unanimous vote.

The license applied for by Coswell, Hazard & Co. was granted, the Board believing that the place was within the statutory limits.

A tavern license to Mary Diggles on Long Wharf was virtually refused, she being requested to withdraw.

Tavern licenses were refused the Germania Hotel, Samuel McLeod and Samuel Pollitt.

A license to sell fireworks was granted Ernest Goffe.

A tavern license was granted John Magan.

J. A. P. Atwater, application for a tavern license on Washington square, was refused.

A tavern license was granted Newton Hammond.

Leopold Hertgen's application for a tavern or hotel license was refused.

G. T. W. Melville applied for a license for a pool and billiard table, but he was required to wait until an idea could be had of the kind of a place he intended to keep.

Nearly all the other applications were granted except in cases where the forms have not been observed. The question was raised as to whether the Catholic schools or the evening school came within the interest of the law. The case was referred to the City Solicitor who reserved his opinion.

The board then adjourned to next Tuesday evening.

PERIODICALS.

The Newport Historical Magazine for July, being the second number of this locally important and interesting publication, contains extracts from the Rhode Island colonial records relating to the original grant of lands to the early settlers of Newport; extracts from Rhode Island colonial land evidence; several monumental inscriptions from tombstones in Newport cemeteries; a continuation of the Tiverton town records; a letter from James Helme, of South Kingstown, to Martin Howard, of Newport, December 30, 1776, a list of vessels belonging to Newport, March 1, 1788; various instructions of the town of Portsmouth to its deputies; "A Thankfull Memoriall," from the manuscript of John Saffin, a resident of Bristol in 1710; a list of persons who had the small pox in Rhode Island colony in 1739; a very curious letter from the Baptist church in Springfield, Mass., to the First Baptist Church of Newport, October 5, 1754; continuation of extracts from the Middletown records; a list of the occupants of the houses in Newport during the revolution; a copy of part of a journal kept at Portsmouth, R. I., 1778; continuation of Newport town records; and "Notes and Queries" by the editor and contributors. The oldest inscription from Newport tombstones, all of which are interesting, is the following:—

> Here Layeth The Body > of Roger Baster
> Bachelor, Block Maker
> Aged 66 years, He Dyed
> 23 Day of Apreł 1687
> He was one of the Fi > rst Believers of a chu

The extracts from the Portsmouth instructions to deputies show that the electors in the early history of the state kept a sharp watch over the proceedings of their representatives in the General Assembly, and that the deputies often consulted the town meeting as to the way they should vote. But they appear occasionally to have taken their own counsel, for we find a protest on record against the hostile action of the representatives toward the ratification of the national constitution in 1790. The Historical Magazine bids fair to acquire more than a local reputation.

Harpers' Young People for the current week is a particularly bright number. The literary contents are quite too varied for particular mention. A large double-page-illustration, "The Clown's Audience," is exquisite.

MRS. GILLIAT'S SCHOOL.

The closing exercises of Mrs. Gilliat's school took place yesterday and her pupils have returned home for their long summer vacation. At eleven o'clock the members of the school met together and received from Mrs. Gilliat their reports for the year, and the result of their examination papers. At twelve o'clock the parents and near friends of the pupils assembled in the school-rooms, which were very prettily decorated with flowers and arranged for the occasion. Mrs. Gilliat first read to those present a brief resumé of the work done during the past year, which has embraced nearly every branch in a liberal education. She then asked some of her scholars to give examples of what they had been learning, not so much for a rigid examination, as to prove their acquaintance with the subjects proposed. The theorems in geometry were clearly and prettily worked out and explained. The propositions in algebra were exceedingly well rendered, and the little class in arithmetic did themselves credit. In Latin the written examples could not have been excelled, and Miss Bessie Finch showed herself master of her subject, and thoroughly acquainted with her Latin grammar as far as she has gone, by the accuracy and facility with which she wrote whatever was required of her. Prizes were then awarded in the following manner: to all those who had been constant in their attendance: for Latin, to Miss Harriet Hoppin, Miss Lucy Marvin and Miss Bessie Finch, each being best in her respective class; for mathematics, to Miss Josie V. Nye and Miss Helena V. Gilliat; for the highest marks in scholarship, to Miss Harriet Hoppin in the older room, and to Miss Helena V. Gilliat in the younger room; for the best examination papers, to Miss Josie V. Nye, and for the second best to Miss Lucy Marvin; of the younger pupils Miss Bessie Finch had the best examination papers. The Principal's prize, offered to the pupil in the house who had been in every way attentive to her duties, was given to Miss Mary L. Mallory. The "Magill" prizes for compositions fell to Miss Zaidee Gilliat for the best and to Miss Harriet Hoppin for the second best of the older class. In the younger class Miss Mary H. Finch received the award for the best composition. These prizes were all handsome books. The exercises were completed by the gift of the graduating rings to Miss Isabelle H. Peet and Miss Annie C. Ward, who now bid farewell to their school days forever. After this the guests and scholars moved to the dining room, where a collation awaited them, and thus the morning closed with happy, cheerful talk and merriment, and with hearty congratulations to both teachers and scholars on the delightful termination of another school year.

RHODE ISLAND ODD FELLOWS.

The annual meeting of the Odd Fellows Beneficial Association of this state was held in Providence, Tuesday.

The report of the Committee on Finance was read and received: Number of members at last report, 1011; suspensions during the past year, 22; deaths, 20; and withdrawn, 2, leaving a total membership the 1st instant of 967, or a loss of 44 from last year's report. The average age of the twenty who died was 58 3-5 years.

The association paid as benefits during the past year to families of deceased members $17,900. The aggregate amount paid to families of deceased members since the association was first organized is $203,967.

The report of the treasurer, Charles L. Kenyon, showed that the total receipts for the year were $22,906.39, and that the total disbursements for the year were $19,730.31. The total assets of the association amount to $27,511.92.

A board of thirty directors was then elected who elected the following as officers of the association for the year ensuing:

President—Wm. R. Dutemple.
Vice Presidents—William J. Miller and Lindsay Anderson.
Secretary—Wm. E. Whiting.
Treasurer—Charles L. Kenyon.
Finance Committee—William J. Miller, George Olney and Lindsay Anderson.

HOT WEATHER IN NEW YORK.

The New York Commercial Advertiser of Tuesday evening says: The hot wave which has visited this city is very likely to increase in power daily until after "the Fourth," when it is very probable the weather will be exceedingly hot. The thermometer registered 83° on the top of the Equitable building at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and 88° on the sidewalk. At the Signal Service Office it was said the heat was general all over the country, but the weather was particularly hot in the West. The heat here is likely to be attended with local thunder storms, some of which are said to be now breaking over the upper part of the Hudson river. It was claimed that the heat, while it might be oppressive to human beings and animals in cities, was greatly required in the country for the purpose of making the crops grow, and a week or two of hot weather would be appreciated by the farmers. It was not considered at the Signal Service office as excessively hot for this time of year; the only reason why it was so severely felt was because the weather had been unexceptionally cool during the past two weeks. Should the temperature be increased gradually from now until next Monday, the heat of the Fourth of July will not cause so much oppression as the milder weather of today, as the people by that time will have become used to it.

The Graphic says of the effect of the hot weather on the summer traffic: The Coney Island hotel keepers who had almost despaired of seeing anything like the old time hot spells of past seasons, have been greatly surprised, as well as partially satisfied, over the sudden change in the temperature, since it has already resulted in the attraction of a few thousand of guests to the beach, and has given temporary employment to the army of waiters and cooks, who for a month past have had a holiday with full pay added as dessert. The excursion boats running to Bay Ridge and Iron Pier carried larger crowds today than on any ordinary week day since the opening of the season, but a glance through the cabins showed that there was ample room for many more. The Pennsylvania and Central Railroad Companies have each placed a large excursion boat on the route between this city and Coney Island, and two boats will commence making regular trips to Rockaway and the Iron Pier from Newark on Sunday.

Considerable curiosity has recently been manifested to discover the identity of the three Coney Island hotel keepers who, it is reported, are about to receive the attention of the Sheriff of Kings county on account of their inability to settle outstanding debts, the result of the backward season. Thus far no one seems to have been able to place the unfortunate bonifaces.

Reports from Long Branch and Ocean Grove seem to indicate a prosperous season at these points.

"BUTTERFLIES OF FASHION."

Perhaps there is no one subject concerning which more drivel and nonsense has been written than the so called "frivolities" of women who are leaders in fashionable society. Persons of limited experience, who know no more about fashionable life than a Hottentot does of Greek, rush into the newspapers, and exhaust the vocabulary of invective against the "useless lives" led by women of social prominence. Picking out two or three instances of foolish women who are as insignificant in that sphere of life, in which, perhaps, accident has placed them, as their would be critics are in journalism, they draw the conclusion that because a woman is wealthy, has cultivated tastes, refinement of feeling, and is a leader in her own circle, she is therefore a worthless member of society—a burden to herself and to those of her household. The novel, the poodle dog, the nights spent at balls and parties, and the days devoted to bed, the habitual self indulgence, and the careless indifference to the rights and feelings of others, have all been descanted upon, ad nauseam, as inseparable from the contemplation of a woman of fashion. Writers of this kind of trash have no influence over intelligent and thinking people, but are apt to mislead the ignorant, and embitter the poor and unfortunate against those whom fortune or accident of birth has placed in a higher sphere of life.—[Albany Times.

OPTICAL AMUSEMENTS.

The following experiment explains very agreeably the formation of halos: Put a few drops of saturated solution of alum on a piece of glass; it will rapidly crystallize in small octahedral plates, scarcely visible to the naked eye. When this is held between the eye and the sun, or a lamp, the eye being nearer the smooth surface of the glass, three beautiful halos of light will appear, at different distances from the luminous body. The interior halo, which is the whitest, is formed by the images refracted by two of the surfaces of the crystals, but little inclined to each other. The second halo, whose colors are finer, is formed by two faces more inclined; and the third, which is very large, and highly colored, is formed by two faces still more inclined. The same effects may be obtained with other crystals, and each halo will be either double when the refraction is considerable or modified by various colors when the refraction is weak. The effects may be varied in a curious manner, by crystallizing on the same piece of glass salts of a determinate color. By this means halos white and colored succeed each other.

WHERE HE MADE HIS MISTAKE.

A fast young man in Washington has been twice arrested for stealing a locomotive, and again for stealing a hack and pair of horses. He is believed to be insane, and will probably be sent to the asylum. His operations were too small. If he had only stolen a railroad, locomotives and all, he would be called a capitalist and a railroad king, and perhaps be sent to the Senate if he wanted to go.—[Detroit Free Press.

SUNDRIES.

Rebecca—Yes, the marriage tie is a beau-knot.—[Yonkers Statesman.

Astronomer Proctor says the world will last 60,000,000 years yet. That will do. Any man who demands more is a hog.

It is not surprising that there is a great deal of pride at our seaside watering-places, for there every wave has its crest.—[Boston Courier.

No more comets are wanted. A number of wives report that their husbands came home last night in a terribly dazed condition and stated that it was the effects of looking at the comet.—[Boston Post.

They were at a dinner party, and he remarked that he supposed she was fond of ethnology. She said she was, but she was not very well, and the doctor had told her not to eat anything for dessert but oranges.—[San Francisco Chronicle.

A French aristocrat who was one day passing along the boulevard was approached by a little beggar who asked piteously, "Give me a penny, please, only a penny; I haven't had any dinner." "Nor have I," murmured the aristocrat. "Well, then, make it two cents and we'll go and dine together."—[French Journal.

WHAT 20,000 ACRES IS.

Men talk carelessly about acres and money. It is difficult to realize to the mind large sums of money. Commodore Vanderbilt once told me that he could never realize how much $10,000,000 amounted to. The same is true of large tracts of land. Men talk of 20,000, 40,000 and 50,000 acres without any realization of the extent of such an acreage. I visited the other day a ranch of 20,000 acres. I intended to make a thorough survey of it—that is, to ride around it and ride across it. I made my survey, but when I learned that the fence which enclosed it was over seventy miles in length, I concluded I would inspect it by sections. I did considerable riding in two days, nevertheless, but I didn't ride around it. On the ranch there were 1,500 acres, all under the plow, one bit of land nearly as level as a floor, a parallelogram in shape, and the furrow which the plow cut in traversing from one end to the other was three miles in a straight line. It is only after one has visited such an estate and devoted days in riding over it that he realizes what 20,000 acres of land is.—[W. H. H. Murray, in Boston Herald.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine pharmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

Newport Line!

SPECIAL NOTICE!

ON MONDAY, JUNE 20, THE STEAMERS

commanded by careful and experienced officers, will commence their trips for the summer season, between New York and Newport. These vessels have undergone a thorough overhauling, and extensive repairs and improvements have been made, greatly increasing their attractions. New carpets have been laid in the saloons. The ventilation of the dining saloon, by mechanical means, rendering the air at all times pure and the room agreeable, is an improvement that will, no doubt, be very much appreciated. Bulkheads have been placed on the Main Deck aft, making that part of the vessel a pleasant resort for smokers. It is the determination of the management to make this a STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS LINE, and nothing will be spared which will add to the comfort and convenience of patrons. It will be run for the accommodation of travel to and from the summer resorts and important points local to the Old Colony Railroad. There will be no Boston connection and is especially designed for the better accommodation of the Newport travel. Double the number of state-rooms, heretofore assigned to that city, have been allotted for the present season.

From NEWPORT, steamers will leave daily (Sundays excepted), at 8.00 P. M., sharp, and arrive at New York about 6.00 A. M., making sure connections with all lines diverging. It is believed that the certainty of leaving Newport at a fixed hour, by this Line, will be appreciated.

From NEW YORK, steamers will leave daily (Sundays excepted), at 6.00 P. M., and arrive at Newport about 5.00 A. M. No gong will be rung, and passengers may rest undisturbed until 7.00 A. M.
